CARLISLE COUNTY FAIR AUGUST 4TH, 9TH-11TH

County Celebrates 2012 Carlisle County Fair

By Michael Toon
Carlisle Weekly

The Carlisle County Fair was held last week at the Carlisle County Fairgrounds. Fairgoers enjoyed events such as the corn hole tournament, which had a record 28 teams in it, remote control drag and go-kart races, TT/flat track racing, and the mud bogs, where a big crowd was in attendance for the final night of the fair. Fairgoers also enjoyed games, rides, and good food provided by the Carlisle County Fair Board and Murdoc's of Cunningham.

The Carlisle County 4-H held a dunking booth where profits from the dunking booth went to fund 4-H activities. Those dunked included Carlisle County Judge Executive Greg Terry, Republican candidate for Carlisle County Clerk Lisa Mantle-Adams, Susie Johns, Jacob "Cheeks" Teasley, Carlisle County Coronor Steve Freeman, Carlisle County Schools Bus Driver Jennifer McKelly, Carlisle County Deputy Sheriff Eric Perry, Brandon Marberry and various other community members. Over $400 was raised for 4-H activities. Carlisle County Cheerleaders, both middle school and high school also sold ice cream and hair feathers to raise funds for their teams.

The fair concluded with the Carlisle County Fair Parade where the float of John and Delana Mott with Ella Burton, Cameron McGee, Wyatt Newsome, Jaden Mott, and Elijah Ernest won first place. Their float entitled "The Duck Blind" won the $100 first place prize.

This year the rides and amusements were down from last year due to the regular provider, Myers Entertainment declining to provide rides this year. Next year, the fair board will be exploring new options for ride providers.

A salute goes out to the Carlisle County Fair Board who plans out the fair months in advance and puts a lot of hard work into preparing for the fair and working on the fair. Their volunteer work provides the opportunity for Carlisle County to have a fair each year.

Arlington City Council Votes to Decline Tax Increase

By Michael Toon
Carlisle Weekly

The Arlington City Council met in regular session on August 13, 2012. The meeting was called to order with the previous meeting's minutes and monthly bills being approved.

In the treasurer's report, Anita Lambert reported that city insurance premiums will be due in this business quarter, and that the first payment under the new sanitation department agreement was paid as well.

In the cemetery report, Councilman Paul Gaddie questioned Arlington Mayor Bobby McGee on the progress of the road that was planned to be constructed by the Carlisle County Road Department, in order to expand the lots in the Arlington Cemetery.

Mayor McGee told Gaddie

and the council that he and City Maintenance Manager John Lemons met with Carlisle County Judge Executive Greg Terry and Carlisle County Road Department Supervisor Jerry Bowman in May, and Terry and Bowman told McGee and Lemons that work would be completed in the next month. One month later, McGee had heard nothing.

"In letting the county control maintenance of these roads they are able to draw funding for the pavement and development of these roads. The county is not doing their part," Mayor McGee said.

McGee went further to say that he will be in contact with Judge Executive Terry and if nothing can be done soon, the city will have to build the road themselves because of lot space in the cemetery dwindling.

In the city parks and activities report, councilwoman Jada Burgess proposed that the City of Arlington hold a fall block party in late September. Events would include a cornhole tournament, a 5K run, bands, special vendors and a small fry triathlon for the youth. The council was very supportive of the idea, and will plan on having it the last weekend of September.

Councilman Jason Bogle asked Mayor McGee about the City Park and the need to mow the park. Mayor McGee said that with no softball leagues going on, the city has not mowed as often as it usually does. McGee did state that the city will soon mow the field, and assured Councilman Bogle that the field would not get out of control.

In daily operations, Mayor McGee said that mowing and clearing of ditches continued across the city and around dumpsters. McGee also reported that City Maintenance Manager John Lemons aced his sanitation certification test that he recently took during a week's stay in Eastern Kentucky, as he scored a 96 on the test.

Before going into closed session, the City of Arlington adopted the tax rates for the 2013 fiscal year. On motor vehicle and water craft, property and tangible rates, the Arlington City Council elected to keep the rates the same as the previous year, despite having the opportunity to increase the rates. Councilman Jason Bogle told the council that raising the rates now would not be a good idea, and the amount of money that would be generated would not benefit the city, or the citizens. The council was in unanimous agreement.

BRIDGE CLOSURE US 60/62 SOUTH OF CAIRO, ILLINOIS

The Illinois Department of Transportation would like to alert motorists traveling in the Cairo area that the US 60/62 bridge over the Mississippi River will be closed.

Carlisle County Students Attend Governor's Scholar Program

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Governor Steve Beshear today congratulated the 1,073 outstanding Kentucky high school juniors who attended this year's Governor's Scholars Program for five weeks in June and July.

The two students from Carlisle County High School who attended and participated in the Kentucky Governor's Scholar Program were Sawyer Rambo and Chaney Brown.

"The Governor's Scholars Program is an outstanding educational experience for Kentucky, and one I'm proud to say both of my sons had the opportunity to enjoy years ago," Gov. Beshear said. "My congratulations go out to those young Kentuckians who had the great opportunity to share in this exciting program."

By participating, students have the unique opportunity to exchange ideas and discover different points of view while interacting with other students and learning new disciplines.

A statewide selection committee chose the participants for the nationally recognized program from nominations submitted from each Kentucky school district. Selection criteria included academic records and test scores, teacher recommendations, extracurricular activities and essays. The program is free to those who attend. Scholars spend five weeks on a college campus during the program, which this year was held at Bellarmine University, in Louisville, from June 17 to July 21; at Murray State University, in Murray, from June 23 to July 27; and at Centre College, in Danville, from June 24 to July 28. Scholars balance a busy academic schedule in the sciences, mathematics, humanities and the arts with a variety of co-curricular activities and a rich residential life. They participated in community improvement projects, seminars and other activities often initiated by the students themselves.

Lt. Gov. Jerry Abramson took the opportunity to visit Governor's Scholars Program participants at two of the campuses this summer. "I was impressed by these bright young Kentuckians participating in the Governor's Scholar Program," said Lt. Gov. Abramson. "These students have distinguished themselves through hard work and dedication. I have the highest expectations for them and for the future of a Commonwealth in which they become community leaders."

Draper's BBQ Now Sponsored by Green Mountain Grills

Draper's BBQ of Cunningham, Kentucky, announced last week that they are now officially sponsored by Green Mountain Grills (GMG). This cooperative agreement is a culmination of several projects where Draper's BBQ had the opportunity to work side-by-side with members of the GMG team. "It became obvious to both us and the GMG leadership that working together on a more formal basis would greatly benefit both companies," Shane Draper of Draper's BBQ said.

Draper's BBQ, up to this point, has never accepted an endorsement deal or sponsorship of any kind for our competition team. "We have and will continue to help all companies whose products we believe in and use but our competition focus, for the remainder of 2012 and beyond, will now reside primarily with GMG and the pellet grill market place," Draper said.

As a part of this partnership Draper's BBQ is now able to be a full GMG dealer and will become an active part of driving GMG to the forefront of the pellet grilling market. "We will do everything we can as a company to support our partners in this endeavor and look forward to becoming West Kentucky's premier full service pellet grill dealership," Draper said. Draper's BBQ is fully committed to GMG's policy of service excellence before, during and after the sale and we will be bringing you a line of barbecue products and classes designed to help all barbecue enthusiast get the most out of their culinary adventures.

If you have any questions about Green Mountain Grills please contact Shane via email at shane@drapersbbq.com and he would love to help you in making the right choice for your barbecue and grilling adventures.

Carlisle County Farmers Now Able to Apply for Drought Relief

Installing pipelines or other facilities for livestock water or existing irrigation systems for orchards and vineyards
Constructing an deepening wells for livestock water
Developing springs or seeps for livestock water

Producers, who have experienced severe drought conditions that will require outside assistance to provide supplemental emergency water, may contact the local Carlisle County FSA Service Center. Requests for assistance will be accepted at the Bardwell Service Center from July 23, 2012 to August 22, 2012.

To be eligible for cost share, practices shall not be started until a request has first been filed at the Carlisle County Service Center and an onsite inspection of the problem area has been made by the FSA County Committee (COC) or its representative. COC's will review the inspection findings when considering approval of the request for cost shares.

All producers, regardless of race, sex, religion, color, age, national origin, marital status, politics, or handicap shall have an opportunity to request cost sharing.

Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) Assistance for Farmers Impacted by Drought

Lexington, KY, (August 8, 2012) --- Karen Woodrich, State Conservationist for the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) in Kentucky announced $128,500 for drought assistance in Kentucky. Counties designated by the National Climatic Data Center the US Drought Monitor Report (<http://droughtmonitor.unl.edu>) as experiencing extreme (D3) or exceptional (D4) drought conditions are eligible for drought assistance funding through EQIP. The counties designated as extreme or exceptional according to the drought monitor map are Ballard, Butler, Caldwell, Calloway, Carlisle, Christian, Crittenden, Daviess, Fulton, Graves, Hancock, Henderson, Hickman, Hopkins, Livingston, Logan, Lyon, Marshall, McLean, McCracken, Muhlenburg, Ohio, Todd, Trigg, Union, and Webster.

"We're urging producers to get their applications in as soon as possible to be considered for this funding," said Woodrich. Applications are due at NRCS offices by close of business on August 15, 2012. The NRCS Office Locator is available at <http://go.usa.gov/Uo8>.

Practices eligible for drought assistance funding include water wells, pipelines, watering facilities, spring development, animal trails and walkways, forage and biomass plantings, critical area plantings, prescribed grazing, fence, cover crop, and irrigation water management.

NRCS will also allow flexibility for managing contracts; rescheduling practices that cannot be installed as originally scheduled, or assisting with failed conservation practices due to the drought conditions.

We express our sympathy to the families of our Student Minister, Bro. Jason Walker on the death of his Grandmother, Mary Hoppenstedt and Larry Chandler.

From Father's Heart To Yours By Ralph and Pamela Hale

Endurance- A Fading Virtue

We are reading this week from Philippians 3: 4-16. This is one of the Apostle Paul's most famous writings and has been taught, preached, and expounded upon more than any other scripture. Yet we have still not exhausted the revelation and wisdom that is to be found here.

Paul begins here by telling us that there are and have been many that could boast and glory in there accomplishments and credentials. Paul being one who could boast as much as any one else. However Paul had an encounter with Jesus Christ that changed him forever. If you do not know Jesus as your Savior and Lord then I encourage you to stop now and ask Him into your heart so you can forever be changed and have heaven for your home.

Now Paul, as many today, had put much stock in trusting his accomplishments and credentials, but when meeting Jesus Christ he threw all of his stock away and counted it as loss, nothing more than marn-

Why would he or any other person throw away all their life's accomplishments and credentials? Paul said those things that were gain to me I counted loss for Christ. (v. 27) ... for the Excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord... and be found in Him... that I may know him. (v. 8-10)

It's all about Jesus!! You may say to me right now that you already know Jesus. So do I and so did Paul when he wrote these words. What was his desire then? It was this: to answer the high calling of God in Christ Jesus! God has issued a high call to us. Do we hear the call?

To answer the call means that we move from where we are, into the future, a changed person. One that is burning with a passion to be found in Christ and He in us, that the life of God is being lived out full and complete through us. A fullness of Christ that makes people around us aware of God's presence the very instant we enter a place.

Paul said that God had apprehended him for something and he had not apprehended that thing God wanted him to. This man had done so much for Christ, no doubt he was anointed, churches were started, and souls were won all over the gentile world. Yet he says that there is a place God had for him that he had not laid hold of. Oh, how far behind we are today!

Paul expresses to us that this one thing must be done. There must be a forgetting of the things that are behind and a reaching forth unto those things that are before. Beloved, that says strongly that we can't live in the past! We must have a vision and purpose for the future and our future must have better hope than our past had.

There are things in our past that we will remember and take into our future. But the things we take into our future must only be things that will bear witness of God's grace and His working in our lives.

The testimony of Christ we have from our past will most assuredly help us and others in our future. We cannot carry worthless baggage that holds us and others down. And we cannot constantly think and live in the past. If our vision can only see what has happened, then there will be nothing yet to happen before us.

Let us seek then, to hear the call of God for our future. Regardless of how old or young you are God has a great future for you. It is not the will of God for you to just grow old, sit down, and do nothing. We should be advancing always in the things that pertain to the kingdom of God.

Young people please don't spend waste your time on the foolish things this world offers! There is far too much for you in the kingdom of God! Go for the things God has for you!

Leave where you are and start now with the glorious future that God has for you full of vision, hope, and purpose in Christ Jesus.

ONE PRESSON'S VIEW

By Kay Presson

The older I become, the fast time goes by. Seems like only yesterday that I was in elementary school, I began first grade at Heath Elementary, then in the middle of the school year, daddy moved us to Paducah and I finished the school year at Morgan Elementary. In my six years of grade school, I attended four different schools and enjoyed all of my experiences at those schools.

Back when I was a kid, our "back to school" supplies consisted of one pair of new shoes, pencils and paper. There were six of us kids and as the eldest mama encouraged me to be their leader, in which I tried my best. Mama taught us to share, which we did.

My school days began at Heath and daddy moved us throughout Paducah and McCracken County, thus my school days ended at Heath, where I graduated with the class of 1965.

Did I enjoy school? Yes, indeed and I would like to use this opportunity to encourage all school aged children to do their best, because you will always remember your school days.

EXTENSION SERVICE PRESENTS: LIFE STORY, HOW HISTORY CAN HELP YOU

Join us on August 24th for this interesting session! Come at 10:00 a.m. and bring a friend! Call 628-5458 for more information. Extension Homemaker club leaders are expected and all are welcome!

Life Story: How Your History Can Help You

- Do you have memories that you want to share with family and friends but don't know how?
- Do you want to preserve your stories or the stories of someone you love?
- Are you interested in keeping your memory active?

Life story is an account of the series and events that make up your life. Life story is important because it helps explain who you are, where you've been, how you got there, where you are now, and even what you will be doing in the future. This lesson teaches participants about the importance of life story and how documenting it is valuable for promoting an active brain, quality relationships, mental healthiness, and legacy building.

NOTE: Please bring a pencil.

This week's inspiration

This week's inspiration from scripture verse Proverbs 15:1: Most of us remember a Vacation Bible School teacher that really made an impact on us. This is a story about Al who always had a bag of tricks up his sleeve and a unique way of motivating kids to memorize scripture verses.

Proverbs 15:1 tells us that a soft answer turns away wrath but harsh words cause quarrels. During the class at VBS about this verse, Al had several older children blow bubbles from the balcony of the sanctuary. The younger children were down below in the sanctuary. As the bubbles slowly descended, Al told the younger children that the bubbles were the words they speak and instructed them to gather up the bubbles and put them back in the bottles. Of course, chaos ensued as hundreds of little hands tried to unsuccessfully catch the bubbles. Al then told them, "See, once you say something, it's almost impossible to take it back."

Carlisle County Schools Welcome New Faculty and Staff

Erica Hays (left) and Hannah Gilland are new editions to the Carlisle County School System in 2012-13

By Michael Toon
Carlisle Weekly

As the new school year begins, the Carlisle County School System would like to introduce you to their new faculty and staff.

The Carlisle County Middle School introduces Mrs. Erica Hays and Mrs. Hanna Gilland.

Erica Hays is in her first year of teaching at Carlisle County

Middle School. Erica has a Bachelor Degree in chemistry/biology from Western Kentucky University, and has 12 years of experience in the chemical industry field as a laboratory manager and chemist.

Erica has been married to her husband, Austin, for 13 years and has two children, Hunter and Eli. She enjoys reading, crafting, and spending time overwhelmed by the support that she has received from the staff of Carlisle County Schools as well as the parents and students.

Gilland is a recent graduate of Murray State University, and is certified to teach both English and Social Studies. Gilland loves to read and write and spend time with her family. "If the weather is nice, you'll definitely find me at with her family. "I am a lifelong resident and graduate of Carlisle County. I am, and always will be, a COMET!" Hays said.

Hannah Gilland is also in her first year teaching at Carlisle County Middle School. Gilland is very excited to be teaching at CCMS this year and have been overwhelmed by the support that she has received from the staff of Carlisle County High School. Mr. Powell is the high school's new health and physical education teacher. Mr. Powell previously taught at the Carlisle County Middle School for the last two years. He is a graduate of Murray State University and lives in Paducah.

Kentucky Lake," Gilland says.

Carlisle County High School welcomed three new staff members for the 2012-2013. The first is Mr. Mark Paitsel. Mr. Paitsel will be teaching freshmen English. Mr. Paitsel is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He and his family reside in Fulgham, Kentucky.

Mrs. Jenni O'Guin will be teaching math at Carlisle County High School this year. Mrs. O'Guin is a graduate of Union University. Mrs. O'Guin and her family reside in Arlington where her husband is the pastor of Arlington First Baptist Church.

Mr. Bryan Powell is not new to the Carlisle County School system, but he is new to the Carlisle County High School. Mr. Powell is the high school's new health and physical education teacher. Mr. Powell previously taught at the Carlisle County Middle School for the last two years. He is a graduate of Murray State University and lives in Paducah.

I would like to extend a heartfelt THANK YOU to all of the expert staff at the Carlisle County Ambulance Service, Carlisle County Rescue Squad, local Fire Departments, Air Evac Services and especially Philip King in their help in providing emergency response care to me during my recent accident in the bottoms. A special thank you to Bardwell Baptist Church as well.

I especially am grateful for the thoughts, prayers and visits during my hospital stay. It means a lot to me and may God Bless you all.

Sincerely,

Thomas "Cotton" Lemons
